

Michaelmas Term 2002

COMPARATIVE PHILOLOGY GRADUATE SEMINAR

Imperatives: Paradigms and Politeness

Tuesday, 2.15-4 p.m., Centre for Linguistics and Philology, Walton Street

Eighth Week (3 December)

All Participants: All sorts of imperatives.

(The class will start at 2.15 exactly and will finish at 4)

Here we come a-wassailing
Among the leaves so green;
Here we come a-wand'ring
So fair to be seen.
Love and joy come to you,
And to you your wassail too!

2.15. Ina Hartmann (St. Hugh's)

"Bete Er fein und lege Er sich schlafen!" - imperatives from Goethe to Brentano

2.30 Peter Barber (Wolfson)

Let them make up their minds! Evolving a 3rd pl. imperative in Greek.

2.45 Nikola Milic (Somerville)

Imperative Infinitives in Homer

3. Richard Hitchman (New College)

Dissing Death? Imperatives in Greek Funerary Epigrams

3.15 Panagiotis Filos (Jesus)

Modern vs. Ancient: the imperative in Modern Greek

3.30 Dorjana Širola (Somerville)

Imperatives in Croatian

3.45 Richard Hewitt (Corpus)

Wassail

